

CALL FOR PAPERS

Irene Christodoulou, MD, MSc, General Surgeon • Managing Director of JOMP

Why should medical doctors care about psychology?
Welcome to the Journal of Medical Psychology (JOMP)

Dear friends, it is a great pleasure and privilege to welcome you in our new journal, the Journal of Medical Psychology! Representing the non psychologists, I would like to give emphasis to the middle ground cases we face in clinical medicine. Not only in psychiatric and neurologic departments, but in every specialty there is emerging concern and interest about the psychologic aspects of our medical reality.

Some fields that accept cases interesting for psychology and psychiatry are:

Trauma - Emergency Medicine Cardiology	Intensive Care Therapy	General Practice Prevention	Endocrinology & Endocrine Surgery
Cancer (Oncology and Hematology)	Transplantation Medicine Nephrology	Pediatrics	Sport and Exercise Science
Plastic Surgery - Obesity Surgery Neurosurgery	Immunology Dermatology	Gynecology and Andrology	Occupational Medicine
Gastroenterology	Psychosomatic Medicine	Geriatrics and Rehabilitation Medicine	Rheumatology Internal Medicine

So this call has the purpose to invite all medical doctors to submit their papers to the Journal of Medical Psychology, for either medical problems of psychiatric patients or for psychologic/psychiatric disorders of patients hospitalized in non psychiatric departments. We do not ask you to become psychologists, but we are very interested to gather all the valuable material coming from cases of Clinical Medicine and provide interesting results for psychology. We are enthusiastic adopters of new ideas in the area of academic publications and this new journal is making up perhaps the most pioneering publication of Renaissance Medical Publishing!
